OUR TIDIOUTE LETTER.

Romance of the Postoffice—Nominating a Candidate—A Lady in the Matter—Hunting in Progress.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

Tidioute, October 13, 1874.

Although our beautiful little town is suffering from the same disease that afflicts most other sections of the country at present, namely dull times, yet we do have a little excitement occasionally. The latest excitement was caused by the removal of the Postoffice from where it has been located for the last three or four years in the store-room of Messrs. Evans & Dawson, to a building a square farther down town. This action, on the part of our worthy Postmaster, Mr. L. L. McCall, than whom Uncle Samuel has few more faithful or efficient officers, caused quite a number of our citizens doing business in the immediate vicinity of the old Postoffice site to imagine they were being greatly wronged, and with this belief they quickly got together and appointed a committee to visit Erie to interview our member of Congress from this district, Mr. Curtis, in order to ascertain if something could not be done to avert the removal. What Mr. Curtis thought or said in regard to the matter the committee did not report; all we know is that the uptowners are mourning the loss of said establishment, while the hearts of the downtowners are made glad by the removal to their midst.

There has been quite a little flurry amongst the politicians of this section owing to the Republican Conferees failing for sometime to nominate a candidate. Messrs. Stone, of Warren, and McMullin, of Oil City, were the contestants. After a number of meetings and adjournments, and very many ballots, they finally, on Wednesday evening last, nominated McMullin. It is rumored that one of the conferees, unable to attend the last meeting, was represented by his wife. If this is true, one can readily account for the gentlemen having at last come to a conclusion, as the side advocated by the lady was seen to triumph.

Aside from the foregoing, matters here have been at an exceedingly low tide for some months, most of our people having nothing to do but wait, like Macawber, for something to turn up. A few days since a gentleman ventured into the woods and succeeded in slaughtering a few squirrels. The effect was astonishing. Immediately everybody who had a scatter-gun put it in order for the campaign, and now there may be seen daily squads of ambitious hunters wending their way to the woods. The energy displayed by our amatuer sports is prodigious. To be sure, they don't kill much, but they hunt all the same apropos of the subject. The laws of the State do not allow deer to be hunted or run by dogs, the penalty being quite heavy for the offense; but the law is a dead letter here, for parties go out almost daily and hound deer into the river, where, while trying to escape from the dogs, they are shot. A hunting party is going out next Wednesday, numbering some thirty men, divided into two squads. They propose to shoot anything from a bear down to a chipmuck. The party having the smallest amount of game in the evening, to pay for the suppers for the party. Several teams are already engaged to haul in the game, so a game supper may be expected.

Suspended Firms.

Mr. Mygatt, of the firm of Mygatt, Haveland & Co., states that they are making arrangements for a settlement with their creditors, and would be prepared to offer a proposition soon. Mygatt is of the opinion that their embarassment has been in a great measure precipitated by careless or malicious reports.

Valentine & Co. have made arrangements with their creditors for a settlement at sixty cents on the dollar.

The Bulletin says that the committee of creditors of Peake, Opdyke & Co., who suspended some time ago, make a report that the firm have promptly paid eighty per cent. on their indebtedness with interest; that there is not a surplus to pay additional twenty per cent., and that the amount which could be realized from the remaining assets would depend greatly upon the formation of a strong firm to succeed to the business. Propositions from Mr. Peake for the final adjustment of the affairs of the firm have been adopted.

Protestant Episcopal Convention.

The General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, immediately after the morning prayer, went into secret session. The secret session ended at four o'clock. No conclusion was arrived at. The petition from Chicago has not yet been read to the House. The secret session will continue again to-morrow.

The following messages were read by the Secretary during the afternoon, which had been received from the House of Bishops:

The House of Bishops informs the House of Deputies that it has adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, The House of Clerical and Lay Deputies concurring, that the Joint Committee of the Provincial Synod of Canada be continued until the next General Convention.

Resolved, The House of Clerical and Lay Deputies concurring, that a deputation, consisting of three bishops, three presbyters and three laymen, be appointed to attend the next Provincial Synod of Canada, with a view to the promotion of the joint interests of the Churches.

The House of Bishops reported having adopted the following:

Resolved, The House of Clerical and Lay Deputies concurring, that the following Canon of Divorce be substituted in place of canon 13 of title 3, which is hereby repealed, and that said canon be numbered canon 13 of title 2, namely, Canon of Divorce:

Section 1. If any persons be joined together otherwise than as God's word doth allow, their marriage is not lawful.

Sec. 2. No minister of this Church shall solemnize matrimony in any case when there is a divorced wife or husband of either party still living and when the divorce was obtained for some cause arising after marriage. But this canon shall not be held to apply to an innocent party in a divorce for the cause of adultery or to parties once divorced seeking to be united again.

Sec. 3. No minister of this Church shall present for confirmation or administer holy sacraments to any person divorced for any cause arrising after marriage and married to another in violation of this canon during the lifetime of such divorced wife or husband. But this prohibition shall not extend to an innocent party when the divorce has been for the cause of adultery, nor to any penitent in extremis.

Sec. 4. Questions touching the facts of any case arising under this canon shall be referred to the Bishop of the diocese or missionary district, or if there be a vacancy in the Episcopate, then to some Bishop designated by the Standing Committee, who shall thereupon make inquiry by a commisary or otherwise, and deliver his godly judgment in the premises.

Sec. 5. This canon so far as it affixes penalties does not apply to cases occurring before its taking effect, according to canon 4, title 4.

These reports were all ordered placed on the calendar.

The Tribune learns that in the vote of the Ediscopal House of Bishops to-day upon some matter considered as a test vote as to the confirmation of Bishop Seymour, of Illinois, only ten out of forty voted in the negative. One Bishop is credited with saying he wished he was as sure of Heaven as Prof. Seymour of his confirmation.

The Peabody Educational Fund.

The Tribune says that at a meeting of the Trustees of the Peabody Educational Fund, a letter was read from Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, President of the Board, dated Berne, Switzerland, September 1st. Dr. Sears, General Agent of the Board, presented a voluminous report of the work of the past fifteen months. He spoke of the signal success of the Southern school system of the Board. Mixed schools had been tried with remarkable success. The plan of the General Agent has been to co-operate with the School Commissioners in each State, and only upon his recommendation is money given from the fund. Certain conditions have been made necessary, and non-compliance at the end of the year causes the forfeiture by the school of the money to have been awarded it. These conditions are that the school must contain so many pupils, and must have one teacher to fifty pupils, &c. The report was unanimously adopted, and Mr. Sears commended for the able management of his trust. The next meeting of the board will probably be in June, 1875.

Excitement in Commercial Circles.

The Tribune says: Commercial circles were excited to-day by the announcement of the failure of a combination which had been formed for the purpose of controlling the market for oats and for speculating in other grains. The well-known firm of E. S. Edgar & Co., of Burlington, Iowa, were the principal movers in the combination, and their suspension has embarrassed the firms of J. Lathrop & Co. and Lathrop & Engs, of this city. They endorsed accommodation paper for Edgar & Co., but the latter failing to make arrangements to take up this paper, they allowed it to go to protest. In all other respects the New York houses claim to be able to meet their arrangements.

THE ELECTIONS.

ARKANSAS.

Little Rock, Ark., October 16.—Returns from fourteen additional counties hold up to the estimate of last night, 75,000 majority for the Constitution. The State ticket, headed by Garland for Governor, runs about even with the Constitution. So far but three counties have voted against the Constitution.

WEST VIRGINIA.

Wheeling, W. Va., October 16.—The Republicans concede the election of Wilson, Democrat, to Congress in this District by about one hundred majority. This result makes the West Virginia delegation in the next Congress stand three Democrats, instead of one Republican, one Democrat and one Independent, as in the present Congress.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis, October 16.—Fuller and more complete returns from all the legislative districts in the State show the following result: Senate—Democrats, 23; Republicans, 24; Independents, 3. Lower House—Democrats, 52; Republicans, 37; Independents, 11. The Democratic majority on the State ticket will probably reach 18,000.

THE CAPITAL.

Washington, October 16, 1874.

The Union Pacific Railway.

The Acting Secretary of the Interior today received the report of James Moore, of New Jersey, John L. Merriam, of Minnesota, and John S. Delano, of Ohio, commissioners appointed to examine whether the deficiencies in the construction of the Union Pacific Railway as reported by the commission of eminent citizens appointed by Secretary Cox under the act of Congress of April 10, 1869, have been supplied, and the road completed as required by said report. The present commissioners' examination was commenced on the 25th of September, and completed on the 5th inst., and they claim to have made it thoroughly and in detail. The commissioners find from personal examination and from data furnished by the company that the expenditure required by the former commission in finishing bridges, in replacing high trestles by filling with earth, &c., &c., were finally completed in the month of September, 1874, and they have therefore decided that the road as built is a first-class railroad, fully complying with its charter and with the requirements of law; and in accordance with the instructions of the department furnished them. The report is signed by all three of the commissioners. It will require the approval of the President and the formal acceptance of the road as a completed structure before patents will issue for the land grant.

The Supreme Court to-day advanced the Union Pacific railroad tax cases on the docket, and set them for argument on the second Monday in December.

In Memoriam.

An adjourned meeting of the bar of the United States Supreme Court was held today, Judge Campbell presiding. A series of resolutions were adopted in testimony of their great affection and esteem for Judge Benjamin Robbins Curtis in life, and their sense of the great loss which the courts and bar of the whole country and community at large suffer in his death, to commemorate his fidelity to society, to the Government, to religion and to truth. All these trials of duty as a rule of his life the bar present to living lawyers and to their succeeding generations for their sincerest homage.

Reverdy Johnson and others delivered eulogies.

Dismissals from the Treasury.

The blow fell particularly heavy in Treasurer Spinner's bureau.

Speech by Alex. H. Stephens—He Opposes the Passage of the Civil Rights Bill—Has no Objection to a Third Term for President, and Proclaims Himself a Jeffersonian Democrat.

Augusta, October 16.—A. H. Stephens addressed the citizens last evening. He spoke about two hours and half. The passage of the Civil Rights bill would, he said, work great evil and destroy the public school system in the South. President Grant, he would do him the justice to say, had done his duty. He had no objection to a third term per se. He saw no reason why a President who executed the laws faithfully should not be elected for a third term if the people desired it. He had looked into the Louisiana question, and saw no sense in abusing President Grant. He spoke hopefully of the future of the republic, advised his hearers to obey the laws, suppress lawlessness, and to be true to the Constitution and Union as established by our fathers. He proclaimed himself a Jeffersonian Democrat, and had great faith in the truth of those principles.

The Woman's Congress.

Chicago, October 16.—In the Woman's Congress this morning Mrs. Allen Mitchell read an interesting paper on "Fallen Women," and Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, of Boston, a paper on the "Influence of literature on crime." Both ladies were listened to with close attention by a large audience, composed mainly of women.

At the Congress this evening a paper was read by Mrs. Dr. Enslin of Orange, N. J., on "Dentistry." Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, Mrs. Churchill and others discussed the subject. Miss Phoebe Cozzens, a noted lady lawyer of St. Louis, delivered a very able discourse on "The Capabilities of Women for the Learned Professions." At the close of her speech Miss Cozzens was loudly applauded.

The Salt Lake Grand Jury Lectured.

Salt Lake, October 16.—The Grand Jury were lectured this morning as to their duty of secrecy, and threatened with punishment by the Judge if discovered in disclosing their proceedings. This was no doubt called forth by the fact that officers had been hunting for the wives of George Q. Cannon as witnesses, but found his residence locked and every one absent. It is stated that George also absented himself to escape the United States Marshal.

Two Polygamists Indicted.

Salt Lake, October 16.—There were two indictments brought in by the Grand Jury yesterday for lascivious cohabitation, and it is generally believed they were against Brigham Young and Geo. Q. Cannon, late Delegate to Congress. No suits have been made, however, and the Clerk of the Court states that no person is authorized to give any information in regard to it. It is known, however, that evidence in regard to these parties was being taken by the Grand Jury.

INDIFFERENCE TO CASTE.

General Sherman and His Son-In-Law.

A communication to a New York paper says:—"General Sherman's truly Democratic indifference to the distinction of caste was strikingly shown on the late occasion of his daughter's marriage. The new son-in-law of the General is a young man belonging to a poor imigrant family, lately an apprentice at the Novelty Works, and received what education he has at a public school. His father was an Irish laborer of the humblest class, and his only brother, who died about a year ago, was well known as the driver of an ice cart in Brooklyn, and as a 'jolly good fellow.' Most men in a position not half so exalted as that of General Sherman would have frowned upon such an aspirant for the hand of one of their daughters; but what did the General do? Why, being satisfied of the meritorious character of his daughter's suitor, he not only approved of his suit, but gave him a wedding fit for a prince of the blood. People who were in Washington at the time all agree that we have had no wedding in this country to compare with it in magnificence since the marriage of Boss Tweed's daughter. The fashionables of Brooklyn were startled when they read of this brilliant wedding and saw the Assistant Engineer Fitch, or Lieutenant Fitch, as he was styled in the reports, belonged to a Brooklyn family. They ran hither and thither, inquiring what family of Fitches it was that had been so honored, and never dreamed that the little frame house in a back street in Greenpoint was their abode, especially as the family residing in it are generally known to their neighbors by the name of Fitzpatrick."

····Johnny Little, a news boy, on Thursday afternoon found, on Smithfield street, a satchel containing a quantity of valuable papers. He restored it to the owner, Mrs. St. Clair, while she was in the Union Depot waiting to take a train for Wisconsin. She stopped over until yesterday morning, bought the boy a suit of clothes, and learning that his family resides in the same State she does, she took the lad with her when she left on the forenoon train. A large crowd of Johnny's companions bid him good-bye.

····A motion was made in the Criminal Court yesterday, by the counsel of Hillon, who is now in jail for shooting and killing policeman Weimar, for a continuance of his case, on account of the absence of important witnesses. Judge Sterrett did not grant the continuance but instructed the counsel to file the application, and suggested that as the term was only about half through, the witnesses might be obtained before the close of the session.

The Doctor is at present Secretary of the Board of Home Missions of the U. P. Church. In this position he has achieved great success, this Board having greatly improved under his care. He commands the respect and entire confidence of the whole church, and he could hardly be spared from his responsible position. Could the Church Extension and the Home Boards be consolidated and Dr. Brown be appointed Secretary of both, the denomination would then have a competent and trustworthy servant, and thus subserve her best interests, and still retain the services of Dr. Brown to the entire denomination.

THE BUTCHER'S RUN DISTRICT.

Another Meeting of the Citizens Interested—Councils Asked to Adopt Plan No. 2.

Last evening a large meeting of the property holders residing in the Butcher's Run flooded district was held in Lutz & Walz's Hall, Chestnut street, Allegheny. Mr. John J. Fuchs was called to the chair and Mr. J. J. Walther acted as Secretary. Mr. Fuchs, on taking the chair, stated that the Street and Survey committees of Councils had the plans and matters relative to the improvement of the district, and had postponed the matter for one week to allow the citizens of the district to meet and consider which of the three plans they preferred for the improvement of the district. He hoped that the gentlemen present would give full attention to the matter and indulge in no personalities.

Mr. Walthers, chairman of the Citizens Committee, gave a full account of the proceedings of the Council Committees at their last meeting, and also gave a full description of the three plans for the improvement of the district and also a detailed estimate of the cost of each plan, with the proportion of the cost which would be paid by the city.

Mr. Lehman favored the opening of the large street, from Madison avenue to the river, even if it did cost a little more. He moved that plan No. 2 be adopted.

Alderman Bolster agreed with Mr. Lehman in his statements. He said that the run had been filled and closed up, and he thought, of course, it must be opened. It did not make any difference what it would cost, still it is not too much to save the lives of the people. If the district was filled up, it would, in case of another such a rainfall, inundate the people farther out.

Mr. Walther thought that Plan No. 2 was the best one for the district. It is true, this plan will cost a good deal and will occasion considerable damage; that if the fill was not made just as high as the highest point in the district, the water could not be got rid of. The idea of opening the different streets and filling up to carry off the water was well enough when the water was quiet, but when it comes in such quantity and such force as it did at the time of the flood, it would naturally hunt out the straight course and tear down everything to find its way to the river, but if this big, broad street, proposed in plan No. 2 was opened, with high curb stone, the water would naturally pass through it.

Mr. Nanz moved that the City Council be requested to make Valley street, as proposed by plan No. 2 fifty feet wide instead of forty feet. Adopted.

Alderman Bolster moved the adoption of plan No. 2 with the amendment, and hoped there would be a full expression in regard to it. Adopted.

Mr. Walther moved that any persons whose names were on the petition for the adoption of Plan No. 2, and who desired to withdraw their names might do so. Adopted.

The same gentleman read a report to be presented to the Street and Survey Committees giving the result of this meeting, and also asking them to arrange it so that the property holders might have ten years in which to pay for the improvement. Approved.

Mr. Hoff moved that Councils be requested to commence operations to improve by the plan as soon as possible. The motion was unanimously adopted.

Adjourned.

Excelsior Boot and Shoe House.

No man can be expected to become a "star" in more than one department of life, and yet we may expect a man to excel in the quality of his manufactures, and afford the same to the public at low rates. He is not likely to become rich, but then he has a place above all human dignitaries, viz: a meek and quiet conscience. Such we know to be the character of the boots and shoes manufactured by Wm. Martin. No. 108 Federal street, Allegheny, and his prices are as low as the lowest. The profit in buying his boots and shoes, consists in their excellence of material and make-up. No fear that Martin's work will not stand the tests of wet, work and wear.

BONDS at Frankfort 97⅞.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 26¾f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 110.

THE father of Charley Ross, says the Philadelphia Press, has lost his reason, and his life hangs in the balance,—owing to the persecutions that have been visited upon him.

THE withdrawal of the National Board of Underwriters from business in Chicago seems not to have had the effect anticipated. The local companies, and others that have since opened business there, have taken the business, and all seems to go as well as ever. The only question is as to the soundness of the new system. It has always been held to be exceedingly unwise to locate so much insurance in a single city among its home companies. Chicago seems destined to test this theory.

EVEN the happy Democracy are not united. There was a formidable bolt against the Tammany nominations, in New York, the other day, the decent Democrats avowing their purpose not to be run by men like Morrissey, and the element that obeys his orders. It is something worth noticing to know that the Democracy are thus breaking apart. It even has in it a refreshing promise of something like a political millennium. It is, of course, worth a moment's thought, that the depressed fortunes of the Democracy have something to do with it; but nevertheless, it is a formidable bolt, that has in it the promise that the last days of Tammany are near.

THE Chattanooga Convention not only did not do the terrible things that were ascribed to it in advance, but did practical and wise things that are now being commended by the very journals that thought all would go wrong, but which have the candor to admit the truth when it is clearly developed. The principal recommendations of the Convention were, that the public lands at the South should be used to promote education, and that dishonest officials should be removed. Thus the very reform so long clamored for by the malcontents is asked by the Convention; and as education is admitted to be greatly needed at the South, it follows that this can do no wrong. So another list of false prophecies have been dispelled.

THE New York Tribune is disposed to be peculiar over the recent order of Councils, requiring pea-nut stands, soda fountains, and incidentally all kinds of street obstructions removed. It says, "without apologizing for any real nuisance, we must say that we should be very sorry to have a law like this enforced in any town in which we were obliged to live. The disappearance of this outside show would take all the picturesqueness out of our thoroughfares, and leave nothing but bad architecture and commonplace promenaders. A man who seldom purchases may yet be much obliged to the shopkeepers for a display of variegated novelties always pleasant to the jaded eye. When the streets are all the real estate in which a man has a legal interest, he likes to have them bright and pleasant."

WE are immensely relieved to know that the Herald, of New York, accepts the Ohio election as disposing of the Third Term idea. This admission carries with it the consoling hope that we will now be free from the discussion of that subject. What a happy thing that the Ohio election should have furnished such a capital excuse for getting out of the trouble. True, the Ohio people had never troubled themselves over the Third Term idea, and were not aware of the fact that it was to be settled by the outcome of their election. Yet we congratulate ourselves that they voted right on that question, anyhow. While it is true that President Grant has no Third Term aspirations, and Third Termism is not popular in the Republican party, we are glad that the subject has at last been authoritatively settled.

BISMARCK has roused himself to oppose the emigration of Germans to America. Those who go,—the young men,—are tried in the courts, and condemned in default,—that is, in their absence,—656 natives of Berlin having recently been sentenced to a fine of fifty thalers each, for having withdrawn themselves from the requirements of the military conscription law. The enforcement of this may yet occasion trouble between the German and American Governments. If any of these condemned young men return, they are liable to seizure, and to the enforcement of the law; in any event, if money is left them, it cannot be sent to them. In the meantime they may become American citizens, and be entitled to the benefits of our laws. For the German Government to attempt to enforce its laws against citizens of this country, will not, of course, be tolerated. The course of Bismarck, considered merely in the light of policy, is unwise. Persecution always inspires adherence to a given course; and the more they persecute emigrants, the more they will emigrate.

VON ARNIM'S trial, in Germany, is to be conducted secretly. The German Government is wonderfully exercised over it, and its power is to be brought fully to bear, to utterly crush the man who dares brave its wrath. He has been rudely treated, his home and the houses of near relatives searched, and every effort made to reach documents the importance of which can only be inferred by the sensation their possession causes. It is evident the Count has disposed of them, so that they are in places of safety, and is in no need of protection in this regard. The tactics of the Government evidently are to convict him of crime,—treason probably,—the punishment of which is death, and then offer him life on condition of the return of the manuscripts wanted. What the distinct charges against the Count are, other than that of having manuscripts that are valuable to the Government, in that they contain dangerous secrets, we cannot imagine. It seems a case of violent persecution, for purely political ends. In the outcome, a tide of sympathy may be aroused in favor of the persecuted Count.

OF COURSE, comments, wise and unwise, will be made over the Ohio election returns, —from the vindicitive howl of the Post, so full of old time rebel spirit, to the plaintive bleatings of lamblike papers that think the trouble was personal dissatisfaction with individual party leaders. The Tribune of New York, briefly but plainly puts the case, in the following excerpts which, while not complimentary to the Republican party, are in the main true: "It would be a mistake to regard the October elections as indicating a revival of the Bourbon Democracy. The people have not made up their minds to restore power to an organization whose last President was Buchanan and whose last statesman was 'Tweed.' "Every Administration loses before the people in the middle of its term. There were special reasons why this one should. The dissatisfaction even among the more zealous Republicans has been continuously increasing for now nearly eighteen months. Credit Mobilier was hardly out of the way till the Salary Grab came. Then Jayne and Sanborn made their appearance. Simmons followed promptly, and after him came Kellogg and Carpenter. A multitude of other and almost equally exasperating occurrences have increased the discontent." "The panic has been followed by hard times. Furnaces have blown out. Manufactories have stopped. Wages have fallen. Thousands of laborers can find no work at any wages. It always happens that such a condition makes heavily against the party in power. Some think the Government directly responsible for their misfortunes; all think that something is wrong, and they want a change. Local causes have swelled the Administration disasters. The temperance crusade aroused an unusual feeling, and the adoption of a prohibitory plank in the Republican platform in Ohio cost them far more in the cities than they gained in the country." We do not credit the report as to dissatisfaction with President Grant's administration, but the causes above mentioned were more or less present. Yet, as the Tribune says, it is one of those events that almost regularly occur in the middle of a Presidential term. Lincoln's term was thus marked, yet when really national questions were invoked, all was right.

THE LINCOLN MONUMENT.

The dedication of the Lincoln Monument recalls the history of the efforts which have led to the completion of that noble enterprise. Before the funeral train containing the body of Lincoln reached Springfield, the movement was begun to have a monument erected to his memory; and those active in it then have continued in the Association till the present time. The first work done, was that of preparing a suitable vault, to which the body of Lincoln was removed December 31, 1865. Out of thirty-six designs of a monument submitted, that of Larkin G. Mead was accepted, to be constructed of granite and bronze. The work in bronze included a statue of Lincoln, groups representing infantry, cavalry and artillery, a marine group and the coat of arms of the United States. The entire income of the Association has been $180,120.90, and its outlay, of all kinds, $173,282.70. The sum of $6,838.20 remaining will be used to beautify the grounds. The Association and the artist deserve to be congratulated upon the success which has crowned their efforts to give a faithful rendering of the face and form of the beloved dead whose remains rest beneath the monument. Every member of the Association was a neighbor of President Lincoln, and most of them had known him intimately since his early manhood. It is their unanimous opinion that this statue is a truthful likeness, and will serve to give future generations a perfectly accurate conception of Abraham Lincoln.

OUR HIGH SCHOOL.

We called attention, a few days since, to the fact that the attendance at the High School will soon test the capacity of the building. Our impression is, that it will accommodate, when fully crowded, about six hundred students, and it has over four hundred enrolled now. We are glad to know that there is such a large enrollment, and will be gratified when the attendance reaches a much higher number. It indicates the interest the people are taking in higher education than the ward schools confer. It is a proof that our citizens, in increasing numbers, are willing to meet the expense incidental to a larger continuance of their children at school, than has been customary. It proves that the High School is not a "rich man's school," but is being availed of by the poor as well as the rich. All this shows that it has already achieved a certain degree of success, and that more and more it is taking hold of the confidence of the people. Very naturally we may expect its future growth to be greater than it has been in the past. We rejoice at this evidence of prosperity and usefulness, but it suggests forethought, and should lead to the consideration of the question, "What shall be done when the building is not equal in capacity to the demand that is being made on it?"

Will we change the terms of admission, so that fewer can get in? This would serve to defeat the object for which the school was established. Nor would our citizens be willing to pay taxes to support an institution that would discriminate unfairly as to admission. While the High School would be expected to advance the students as far as possible in their studies, it would not be favored, were it to increase the difficulties of admission, with the distinct purpose of presenting an increase of attendance. We conclude, therefore, that the plan of placing new obstacles in the way of admission will not be entertained. This aside, and but two other plans suggest themselves to us.

One is, to add to the building, from time to time, as occasion may demand. This would keep the school intact, as it now is. It would simply provide, by new wings, and additional buildings, for the increase of attendance. Whether this will be a measure of economy is uncertain. On the one hand, the present building must, of course, be changed, as to the size of the rooms, and many features of the interior arrangement, were this plan adopted. The increased attendance of scholars would involve large classes, and require larger recitation rooms, and more liberal arrangements, in many particulars. Whether these, added to the cost of the new building, will represent wise economy, we may well doubt. On the other hand, an entire new building, involving the thought of a distinct establishment, would require a full force of officers and teachers, thus involving extra yearly expense. The other plan consists of a distinct building for the accommodation of the Normal, Commercial and Drawing departments, leaving the High School proper without these specialties, yet having a system under which any or all these departments shall be as available to the High School students as they are now. For a time, indeed, the two institutions might be under the charge of one Principal, just as the many departments of a college are under the direction of one President. In New Jersey, what is technically called the "Normal School" has three distinct buildings, one called the Farnum Preparatory School, and located at Beverly, and another called the Model School, and the third, the Normal School building, located at Trenton. Yet all are under the charge of one Principal. So were these separate institutions to remain under the charge of one Principal, though in separate buildings, the current expense would not be relatively increased. The extra cost of an additional and separate building would be something greater, but not more than the additions to the High School were they of equal capacity.

Were buildings of sufficient capacity erected, the scope of the special departments we have mentioned, could be enlarged. That the Normal department is all that it might, or should be, is not, we think, seriously claimed. It is as well conducted, and made to do as much for the coming teacher as it can be under existing circumstances; but that it meets all the requirements of a thoroughly developed, and properly furnished Normal School will not, we think, be seriously expected. So of the Commercial and Drawing departments. Those having them in charge are doing remarkably well,—all that can be done, under existing circumstances. But that the departments are what they would be, were there the room, and opportunity that could be had in large and completely equipped buildings is not to be believed. With its present interest, and the earnest force of skilled and competent officers and teachers we have in the High School, we are confident that with room, equipments, apparatus, and all that is needed, it would soon rank, in all its departments, among the first of the institutions of its kind in the country.

We are at the pains, thus briefly and suggestively to mention these points, because we think that while the institution has been managed, both by the Central Board, and the officers of the school, economically, it has, at times, been that parsimonious economy that often obtains in struggling institutions that depend upon what they make for new furniture and apparatus. The High School building is an elegant and excellent structure. Its finish, except the public hall, on the topmost floor, is in good taste. But apparatus looking to the illustration of studies, has been slowly, cheaply, and almost beggingly accumulated. When the time comes for a new building, we hope that wise economy will govern. It will be well to put this best educational institution of the city on a footing that will admit of work of an excellence that cannot be doubted. This course will be economical as well as productive of good results.

THAT staunch defender of Republicanism in Western Pennsylvania, the Pittsburgh GAZETTE, comes to us rejuvenated in appearance. It is decidedly the best organ in the State; the most lucid exponent of Republican principles.

POLITICAL NOTES.

JUDGE SOBIESKI ROSS was renominated Wednesday by acclamation as the Republican candidate for Congress in the Sixth district of Pennsylvania.

IN the Fifthteenth Legislative district (Fifteenth ward of Philadelphia) the Press thinks Joseph Bond, a Quaker war Democrat, is coming to the front.

THE Democratic Conference of the Tenth Congressional District of this State met in Old South Bethlehem, Wednesday, and nominated William Matcheler, Esq., of Easton, for Congress.

HON. WILLIAM P. SCHELL was nominated by the Democratic Conferees of the district in this State composed of the counties of Bedford, Somerset and Fulton, for State Senator on Wednesday. Colonel Schell was the Labor Reform candidate for Governor two years ago.

THE Bellefonte Republican says it has been informed that Cyrus T. Alexander is an independent candidate for Congress in the Twentieth Congressional District in opposition to the regular Democratic nominee, L. A. Mackey. Mr. Alexander proposes to enter upon the canvass at once, and will visit the several counties of the district.

A RECENT address from the Republican State Committee of Tennessee denies that the Civil Rights bill is a prominent issue in the State canvass. It is said: "Nothing could be further from the truth. The Republican Party favors the principle of equal, civil and political rights to all citizens, but it does not favor the joint exercise of those rights. It does not propose in any manner whatever to control the social affairs of any citizen."

IN his speech at the Republican ratification meeting in Philadelphia Saturday night, Gen. Charles Albright told this little story: "During the war I had an old color-bearer in one of the regiments I commanded, Mike Kessler by name. At the battle of Fredericksburg he was gallantly carrying the colors of his country, and as we were moving up St. Marie's Heights, in the rear of the town, he was shot down. As I saw him lying at my feet, he raised himself on his elbow, and said: 'Colonel, I am shot, I can take care of the colors no longer; but look out for the colors.'"

THE Cleveland Leader, speaking of the Republican Congressional nominee in the Twenty-sixth District of Pennsylvania, says: Mr. J. G. White, of Mercer, is an honored member of the Mercer bar, a young man of much more than ordinary intellectual acuemen—an accomplishment very desirable in Congressmen—and a brilliant speaker. On the rostrum he has done the party great service throughout his county and State, but has never held an office. In his own county he received the nomination over two strong opponents, and in the district he was chosen against such opposition as Hon. S. Newton Pettis, of Meadville, and Hon. John M. Thompson, of Butler. Mr. White's party antagonist is Mr. James Sheakley, a prominent, straight-laced Democrat of the same county. If a thorough canvass is made and a full vote polled, Mr. White's majority will be about two thousand, as the district is strongly Republican. Mr. White is in every way worthy the suffrage of his district, and in Congress he will honor his constituents.

POSTMASTER GENERAL JEWELL follows the old custom, which, to some extent, still obtains, of returning unofficial visits by card. A LADY clerk in the Postoffice, in an interview with Assistant Secretary Cowan, assumed the entire responsibility of gathering subscriptions from clerks and others in that office to purchase the tea set for presentation to the retiring Commissioner, Leggett. She was informed her admission could concern only herself, and would not exempt the other contributors, the laws requiring the summary discharge of those in the Government service who contribute for such purposes.

E. B. WILLIAMS, aged twenty-two years, a marble cutter by trade, cut his throat with a razor, in Columbus, O., on Friday, while laboring under an attack of delirium tremens. WM. P. DAVIS insured his life with a New York company for $10,000, and paid his premiums until the war broke out. He lived in Petersburg, Va. The agent told him if he would make the back payments after the war ended the policy would be kept alive. After the war he offered the back payments, and they were refused. He sued, and has recovered $5,000 with interest since January, 1868.

A CORRESPONDENT of a London paper thus refers to a new way of "potting" railway passengers: "Yesterday, I was in the train on my way to Dulverton, when a 'sporting gent' by the wayside, excited by the appearance of a covey of birds, let drive one charge of shot into my compartment, hitting me in the face with one shot and favoring the next carriage with the contents of barrel No. 2, potting a middle-aged female in the face."

SOME of the Hampton colored singers attended services at the Third Congregational church in New Haven on Sunday, and, on entering the building, those ahead happened to be the ones who are nearly white and the usher did not, at first, see the deeply-colored ones. A WRITER in the St. Louis Globe describes the process of snuff-dipping as practiced among the noble women of the South. They use a stick about the size of a Faber pencil, one-half cut to half the thickness. The thinner portion is moistened between the lips, rolled in the snuff, packed gradually until the stick is the same size all the way down. Then the fun begins. The lady seats herself quietly, and rolls the stick over and over between her teeth. They do the same thing in Timbuctoo, only there the natives are more honest about it, and chew the entire animal like men.

AN envious Englishman, named W. D. Cooley, has poured out his spleen against Dr. Livingstone in a pamphlet entitled "Dr. Livingstone and the Royal Geographical Society." Mr. Cooley is a scientific geographer who, without ever having set foot in Africa, has written several books about that country. His books are honestly and well done, and deserve greater fame than they have received; but Mr. Cooley, in a fit of blind jealously at the popular acceptance of the labors of African travelers, now attacks in the most libellous terms both Livingstone and the Geographical Society and its co-laborers. He abuses and defames the men who have "walked across Africa," and endeavors to "get even" with Livingstone, who once described Mr. Cooley as "old arm chair geographer who wrote 'inner Africa Laid Open.'"

WHAT'S IN A DREAM!

The Death of the Late Bishop Lee.

A private letter printed in a Boston paper, relates the following curious circumstance in connection with the death of the late Bishop Lee, of Iowa:

"We have been very anxious the last two weeks over the illness of Bishop Lee, which terminated in his death on Saturday morning. The whole community are saddened by the event. Some two months ago he got up in the night and took a bath, and on returning to his room he made a mistake and stepped off a long flight of stairs and landed at the foot with a tremendous crash, as he was very heavy, weighing over two hundred pounds. It aroused the whole family, and Mrs. Lee and Carrie sprang from their beds, and lighting each a candle, went to see what had happened, and found the Bishop lying on the floor of the entry. He got up, however, without aid, and seemed to have received no injury except a few slight bruises, though his right hand was a little lamed.

"Mr. H. and myself called on him two days after, and while telling us of the circumstance of the fall, he mentioned this coincidence: He had a letter in his hand, which he had just received from his son Henry, living at Kansas City. His son wrote: 'Are you well? for last night I had a dream which troubles me. I heard a crash, and, standing up, said to my wife: 'Did you hear that crash?' I dreamed that father had a fall and was dead.' I got up and looked at my watch, and it was two o'clock. I could not sleep again, so vivid was the dream.' And it made him anxious to hear from home.

'The Bishop said he was superstitious, but he thought it remarkable that Henry should have had the dream at the very hour of the same night that the accident occurred. The difference in the time there and here is just fifteen minutes, and it was a quarter past two by his watch, making it at the same moment. It was as if he had actually heard the fall. And the fall finally caused the Bishop's death. His hand became intensely painful, and gangrene set in, which, after two weeks of suffering, terminated his life. We are none of us Spiritualists, as you know, but surely facts like this must go far to make us realize that there is a basis of truth for their hypothesis of spiritual faculties resident in man. How did Henry Lee become cognizant of the accident of his father?"

Sure Preventive to the Freezing of Water Pipes and Accidents of Similar Nature to Water Closets.

We beg leave to offer to the public our

which is Anti-freezing and Inodorous. It is the most durable Closet in the market, for the following reasons: It will not freeze. It is strictly self-acting. It does not cause any re-acting and bursting of pipes. It is free from all obnoxious odors, and therefore will improve the sanitary condition of our cities. It has no valves to get out of repair and leak.

With our valuable improvement obnoxious cesspools in yards are dispensed with, as direct communication is made with the sewer pipe.

The public are invited to call at our salesroom, and examine this valuable improvement in operation, where its great advantages can be seen at a glance, or send for circular containing full particulars.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, October 17, 1874.

The demand upon the banks noted for several days past continues, and improves rather than otherwise. The paper offered is drawn against value, and is not, in any proper sense, accommodation paper, and indicates a healthful improvement in business. It also covers general business,—not only the iron trade, but other forms of business enterprise. It clearly substantiates what we have steadily declared, that business, particularly in the line of manufactures, has been steadily improving, and that a better winter may be looked for as regards trade, than was anticipated a few months since.

—Concerning the recent failures in New York, the Republic, of October 12, has this information:

The rumor on Saturday that Messrs. L. Roberts & Co., flour merchants, No. 717 South street, had failed, was confirmed. This failure caused great surprise among all who knew the house. The firm were generally supposed to be wealthy. They had such a steady trade for consumption, and their sales were so generally for cash, that surprise at their failure was natural. It is stated that Mr. Roberts has been operating in Wall street, and though he is represented to have abundant assets in the form of real estate, he had no cash means to respond to all the losses resulting from these speculations. It is the old story of losses resulting from a departure from legitimate business. It is believed that the firm have ample assets, and that time only is required to enable them to meet every obligation in full. This failure should not be taken as an indication of a lack of safety in the general condition of trade, for the regular trade of the house has always shown good returns.

—The Bulletin yesterday says the Committee of Creditors of Peake, Oydyke & Co., who suspended some time ago, make report a that the firm have promptly paid eighty per cent. of their indebtedness with interest, that there is not a surplus to pay the additional twenty per cent., and that the amount which could be realized from the remaining assets would depend greatly upon the formation of a strong firm to succeed to the business. Propositions from Mr. Peake for the final adjustment of the affairs of the firm have been adopted.

—There was a flutter in the tea-trade Tuesday, among the jobbers, owing to the telegraphic announcement that Messrs. Brock, Rogers & Co., St. Louis, had failed. It was reported that Brock sold the larger part of the stock and absconded with the proceeds. The firm owe in several quarters in New York sums ranging from $3,000 to $12,000 each.

—It is a generally received opinion that the estate of Hoyt, Spragues & Co. will pay about 50 cents on the dollar. The affairs of the house are now in the hands of Augustus D. Julliard, as Receiver. The liabilities of the concern are over $9,000,000. We learn that the Providence banks who are interested do not anticipate more than 40 per cent. in satisfaction of their claims.

—Mr. Mygatt, of the firm of Mygatt, Haveland & Co., states that they are making arrangements for a settlement with their creditors, and would be prepared to offer a proposition soon.

—It is understood that Paton & Co., the prominent Broadway dry-goods firm, who suspended some two months ago, have submitted a proposition to their creditors to settle 25 cents on the dollar.

—Valentine & Co. have made arrangements with their creditors for a settlement at sixty cents on the dollar.

COMMERCIAL.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH DAILY MARKETS.

The time for apprehension and distrust in commercial circles has passed, and, as the New York Bulletin justly observes, we are in the midst of a convalescent process now; but men insist on believing that we are afflicted with some incomprehensible disease which has not yet culminated, and which may leave trade long prostrate, refusing to see that the climax is past, and that the next in order is complete recovery. The restoration cannot be instantaneous, but it is not therefore the less certain. The actual recovery will consist in the full employment of the labor of the country in useful production. But certain things are necessary before that condition of things can be realized. The owners of capital must be satisfied that prices and wages have touched the minimum before they begin to employ labor more freely; but it does not follow, because they cannot be satisfied on that point in a week, that they may not be in six or twelve months. Merchants must feel convinced that there is to be no further shrinkage in values before they are willing to carry an average stock of goods; and only clear evidence, such as time alone can afford, will satisfy them on this point. Bankers must feel sure that their customers are able to endure until the recovery is completed before they will discount and grant credits to the usual extent; and such assurance they can acquire only after prolonged observation and evidence.

APPLES—Continue to come in pretty freely, and the market is dull, although prices remain unchanged; ranging from $1.50 to $2.50 ₱ bbl, according to quality.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Has commenced to come forward; selling at 4½@5c ₱ lb.

BUTTER—The market is easier under the influence of increased receipts, but prices are still maintained; 33@35 for prime to choice roll.

CHESTNUTS—Dull and drooping; offered to-day at $4 ₱ bushel.

CHEESE—The market continues fairly active, and prices are fully sustained; 15½@16 for Ohio and 16½@17 for New York.

CRANBERRIES—Quotable at $10@12 ₱ for bbl Jerseys, and $15 ₱ bbl for Sackett's.

EGGS—The market continues slow, and prices are weak with a drooping tendency; fresh receipts, guaranteed as such, 22@23.

FLOUR—There is a fair local trade, but the market is quiet and unchanged. We continue to quote Spring wheat flour at $6@6.50 for Wisconsins, and $6.75@7 for Minnesotas; winters at $6@6.50 for red, and $7@7.50 for white. Rye Flour, $5.75.

GROCERIES—The market for Coffee has stiffened up again, but, as a general thing, operators have but little confidence in the immediate future of the bean, being strongly impressed with the belief that a further shrinkage in prices is only a question of a little time. Sugars continue weak, and refined goods have declined from ¼ to ⅜ of a cent ₱ lb, as compared with the highest notch. Syrups, Molasses etc.etc. continue quiet and unchanged. Carolina Rice is firmer, and prices at Charleston are just about back to where they were prior to the recent break.

GRAIN—There is some inquiry for Wheat, but the supply is fully equal to the demand, and the mills are getting all they want within the range of quotations; $1.12@1.15 for Penna and Ohio red winter, and $1.18@1.20 for amber and white. The Oat market is somewhat demoralized, in consequence of the reaction in Chicago, and prices are weaker; selling at from 58 to 61, according to quality—fairly quotable at 58@60 for good mixed to choice. New Ear Corn is coming forward in better condition, hence it is readier of sale, but prices are no better; quotable at 63@65 cents for 75 pounds to the bushel. Old Ear Corn is dull and lower, as consumers are unwilling to pay the difference between it and new, particularly now that the former has commenced to come in in better condition. Old Shelled is also lower; sale 4 cars prime yellow at 88. Barley is dull; brewers generally are inclined to the belief that it will be lower, and besides, there is considerable old malt on hand yet; No. 2 Spring quotable at $1.25; No. 3 at $1.10@1.15.

HAY—Baled hay continues to come forward freely and with a light demand and stocks accumulating, prices are weak and drooping; fairly quotable at $16 to $20, per ton according to quality and condition.

HONEY—Clover, in boxes, 35.

ONIONS—In fair supply, but with a steady consumptive demand, prices are fully maintained; $3@4 ₱ bbl, the outside figure for choice silver skins.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

PIG IRON.

So much has been said and written in regard to this important branch of business, and every point in connection therewith so thoroughly canvassed, that there is really but little that is new or important to be added. Trade continues dull, the mills are still adhering to the hand-to-mouth policy, buying only for immediate wants, determined to carry no more stock than is absolutely necessary, and while there has been no quotable change in prices, the general tone of the market is not as strong now as it was late in the summer; and, furthermore, the outlook is not as encouraging. Producers generally were pretty confident in July and August that they would be able to obtain better rates as soon as the fall trade for the product fairly opened up, but their expectations have not been realized, and, instead of an advance, prices have declined, and, as already intimated, the general feeling just now is that there will be no improvement before the 1st of the year, if then. It is thought now that the cost of manufacture will have to be reduced, and this just now appears to be the only hope for the producer; it is true, it has been reduced as compared with what is was before the panic, but a still further reduction is required. The cost of ore, labor, fuel, etc., are much lower now than they were prior to the panic, but the cost of transportation, if we mistake not, remains the same; we know the railroad companies will argue that they cannot afford to make a reduction, but the same argument could have been advanced with equal force by the ore and and coal companies, as well as the men employed by the furnace companies. It is well known that all the railroad companies centering here, derive a large revenue, both directly and indirectly, from the iron trade, and it is nothing more than proper and just that they should do all in their power to stimulate and foster this important Pittsburgh interest, as it is a matter in which they are deeply interested. Following sales were reported:

MANUFACTURED IRON.

The general position of the market remains substantially as noted in our last review; business, while it is not as active as it was, is perhaps about all that can reasonably be expected, and while orders are not coming in as freely as could be desired, there is little or no doubt apprehended but what the mills will have about all they can do during the balance of the year. The most discouraging feature just now is that "cutting" has again been resorted to, hence there is no uniformity in rates, and the probability is that prices will soon be run down, if they have not been already, so that there will be no margin for profit, as was the case prior to the last advance made by the Association. However, with one or two exceptions, the mills are all in operation, and some of them are working up to their full capacity.

NAILS.

There is no improvement to report in the nail trade, nor is it likely that there will be this side of January, if then; it is true prices are sustained, but then they are down so low that they afford no room for "cutting." We continue to quote on a basis of $3.35, 60 days, with the usual discount for cash, but there is no rebate, as formerly, on lots of 100 kegs and upwards.

SCRAP IRON.

The scrap iron trade continues very dull and unsatisfactory, with but little prospect just now of an early change for the better. There is so little doing that dealers decline to give quotations.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

The Crude market was a shade firmer to-day, although prices were not quotably higher; quoted, for immediate shipment, at 90 cents ₱ bbl. Refined was also more inquired for, with a stronger feeling; 11⅛ bid for immediate delivery in Philadelphia, but there are no sellers here at the price in question; indeed, we have not heard of a single sale having been made in first hands here since the new freight schedule went into effect on the 1st inst. There was a sale of 3,000 bbls to go to Baltimore, deliverable next week, on private terms, at the depot of the Connellsville Railroad.

The feeling prevails to some extent that as soon as the Penna. Railroad Company is satisfied that our refiners are in earnest in regard to shipping their product over the Connellsville Road, that they will at once break loose from the combination and reduce the rates, and there is not much doubt, but what concessions of some kind will be offered, but our refiners are determined not to take the back track again, no matter what inducements may be held out. They are thoroughly satisfied that the salvation of the oil trade of Pittsburgh depends upon another outlet to the seaboard, and this they are determined to have.

The Barrel trade continues dull, but prices have undergone no quotable change; countries, $1.30; city make, $1.45.

GEORGE H. ROHE, Sergeant, Signal Service, U. S. A.

The river was stationary last evening, with 2½ feet by the marks. Clear and cool, and very favorable for out-door business, which, we regret to state, continues very dull. There will be no business here until there is more water, of which the prospects at this writing are anything but encouraging.

—From Friday's Cincinnati Commercial we learn the following:—The numerous friends of Engineer Charles Marshall will be gratified to learn he is recovering from his recent severe attack of flux. He was out of danger and doing as well as could be expected last night.——The Kittie Hegler, which arrived from Arkansas river, Wednesday night, has been absent from Cincinnati since the 2nd of last May. She was aground in the Arkansas river several months. Her trials and tribulations have cost Captain Hegler nearly $10,000, who purchased the bulk of her cargo on the present return trip, consisting chiefly of scrap iron. The Captain will have her refitted and enter the coming season with the hope of better luck next time.——Commodore Kountz makes the following proposition to the movers for a consolidated line to consist of all St. Louis and New Orleans tonnage other than the barges: That if the other boats will give him two days in the week to load his boats, the balance may take the other four days.——Colonel J. Luther Vance of Gallipolis, Ohio, recently elected to Congress from the Eleventh Ohio District, is well known along the Upper Ohio, having clerked on the Cottage No. 2 and other steamers in the Kanawha trade. During the rebellion he recruited a company in a Virginia regiment, and served with distinction. His district usually gave a Republican majority of about 2,000; Vance was, however, elected by over 2,000 majority.——Captain William Dix, once the great manipulator of the Upper Cumberland Mosquito Fleet, has gained his suit against the city of Nashville for $11,000 damages for falling into a ditch one year ago.——The Tug Greyhound departed from St. Louis to Shotwell's Mines, with four barges, purchased here. The Greyhound was also sold. Terms not transpired.——The machinery of the Wild Cat was sold at Cairo on Thursday as follows:—Two engines, nigger doctor, one pitman, shaft, capstan, heaters and a lot of scraps were bought by H. Sayers for $450; four boilers, fronts and grate bars by E. W. Halliday, for $325, who also bought a lot of copper pipe at 19½ cents per pound.

—The trade of the Upper Missouri is about closed, and several steamers will soon be under way to St. Louis from Sioux City and beyond. The fall trade of the Mountain-country has been the largest ever known. The Upper Missouri trade has been remunerative to a satisfactory degree this year, and two more new steamers will enter it next Spring.

—There is some excitement ovee the newly discovered gold mines in Montana, wrich promise a more abundant yield than any yet discovered. They are situated on the Jefferson River, about twenty-five miles above Gallatin City, near the Missouri River.

—The Helena (Montana) Herald of the 5th says: Capt. Nick Wall is prolonging what has been to him a very pleasant stay among his many warm friends in Helena. He is associated with gentlemen in St. Louis in a prosperous business, and will return to the 'Future Great City' the present month.

—A late Memphis paper says: The steamer G. W. Cheek was sold, Friday, to Captain J. West Sneed, on private terms. Capt. Sneed represents a number of planters living between here and Osceola, where his boat will ply.

—The Cincinnati and Memphis packets have appointed Captain Richard G. Lightburne agent for the line at Memphis, and Capt. B. C. Levy the agent at Louisville.

—The Cairo Bulletin says: The Mary Alice's last two trips to New Orleans and return were made in 28 days, and her cargoes were, together, 3,500 tons down and 900 tons up.

—The Utah struck an obstruction in the Arkansas, which broke fifty or sixty of her timbers. She is en route to St. Louis, and will go in dock at once for all necessary repairs.

—The Granite State has gone into the Cincinnati and Pomeroy trade.

HOME NEWS.

Sudden Death.

Henry Weisman, an old and well known resident of Baldwin township, suddenly dropped dead about four o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was in apparent good health at the time.

Target Practice.

Captain Fullwood's Company were out at Target practice yesterday, and spent an enjoyable day. The distance was one hundred and ten yards, each man having n shots. Captain Fullword led the sc te, making 100 out of a possible score of 180 Mr. John Osborne made a score of 96 out of 180.

The City Property Committee of Allegheny Councils met last evening and approved bills to the amount of $370 and appointed a sub-committee to rent or dispose of the old Columbia Engine House. Also a committee to make some repairs and add a vestibule door to the City building. Also a committee to see that the additions and work being done on Knap's battery armory were properly done.

Garroting in Allegheny.

On Thursday night about eleven o'clock a young man named Morgan was garroted by two men on Federal street above North avenue, Allegheny, and robbed of $26. The rascals escaped.

On the same night another man was knocked down and robbed on Pennsylvania avenue. His assailants also escaped undetected.

Seventh Ward Republicans.

We have been authorized to state that there will be a general meeting of Republicans, of the different election districts of the Seventh ward, Pittsburgh, at the Franklin street School House, this (Saturday) evening, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. It is hoped and expected there will be a full attendance of all earnest Republicans who take an interest in the approaching election, as business of importance will be brought before the meeting.

Slight Explosion.

A slight explosion took place in F. and W. Beckert's wagon shops, on the corner of Ohio and Sycamore streets, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon at half past two o'clock. It appears that the gas pipe had been leaking for some days in the street and by chance the gas had found its way into the cellar of the above building from the main. One of the proprietors went into the basement at the time above stated, with a lamp in his hand, which ignited the gas, causing it to explode, making two or three holes in the wall and burning the hand and face of Mr. Beckert quite severely. The stones flew in every direction, one of them hitting Mr. Adam Emmick and another, a constable, who was passing by. No further damage was done.

Goods Identified.

The owners of the stolen goods found on Thursday, by the police of Allegheny, are rapidly coming in.

Messrs. R. J. Lyde & Co., recognized three of their canes, two heads of which were melted into bullion. George Shiras, Esq., the attorney, identified a valuable ivory handled umbrella together with some other articles. Messrs. Frank Byrne, Joseph Rose and George Labar also came and recognized goods that were stolen from them. Philip D. Susman was fortunate enough in getting most of his goods out of the pile. The Robinson street house, where a portion of the goods were discovered, is kept by Mrs. Wilson, as a boarding house. The landlady is said to be a respectable woman, and claims to know nothing of the transactions of her boarders. They simply rented rooms of her, and as to their character she knew nothing. The other dwelling back of the Young Men's Home is presided over by a washer woman, who also claims to be innocent of their doings. They only ate their meals there, and stopped in the Robinson street house.

The Charles Street Contract.

At the meeting of the Street Committee of Allegheny Councils, on Thursday evening, the contract for grading and paving Charles street was awarded to James Orr, the second lowest bidder, for $65,580. This contract is the largest that has been awarded in Allegheny since the contract for improving the Troy Hill road. The contract was not awarded to the lowest bidder, Mr. Isaac Myers, whose bid was a little more than $5,000 less than Mr. Orr's, for the reason, the committee say, that they are not altogether satisfied with the manner in which he acted in regard to a contract awarded him some time ago. There was considerable difference in the bids, which were as follows:

Adam Whey	$110,465
Johnson & Wilhelm	108,788
J. A. Verner & Son	89,980
Thomas Carson	88,480
John Shetzel	84,147
McNaugher & Co	82,970
F. Gwinner	78,178
James Orr	65,580
Isaac Myers	60,031

Railway Enterprise.

[From the New York News.]

The Central Railroad of Long Island has recently had Parlor Cars placed on their Babylon Line, by the "American Parlor Car Company," which in point of elegance and comfort excel any of the kind heretofore seen on Long Island. The initial car "Enterprise," for example, as fitted out by A. T. Stewart & Co., is a marvel of beauty, and we are glad to learn that the patronage extended has been exceedingly satisfactory.

It has long been a wonder to most of our suburban railway travel why Parlor Cars have not been placed on all our local trains. A small fee for a positive certainty of a seat in an elegant smoking, or parlor compartment, is nothing, in comparison to the comfort and ease enjoyed therein, by the weary business man, or by ladies, who greatly require the privacy and attention thereby afforded. Such cars are not only a luxury but an actual necessity, and we are pleased to record the fact that an organization has at last been effected to supply this desideratum. We hope railroad companies centering in this city will avail themselves and their patrons of the opportunities afforded by this new order of railway service.

[We may add to the above that the American Parlor Car Company is now in successful operation, their regular 2½ per cent. quarterly dividend having been paid on the 16th inst., as per notice in our advertising columns. Several of our Pittsburgh business men are stockholders in this organization.]

SUPPOSED SUICIDE.

Death from an Overdose of Laudanum.

Last evening at eight o'clock, Mr. Thomas Dyke, residing on Centre avenue, died very suddenly—supposed to have been caused from an overdose of laudanum. Deceased was a car driver on one of the passenger railways, and his sudden demise has caused much surprise. An inquest will be held upon his body this morning.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS.

Allegheny Survey Committee.

The Survey Committee met yesterday afternoon and instructed the Engineer to prepare a plan for the opening of Shady avenue, from Woodland avenue to the city line. The Committee agreed to recommend to Councils to quash the viewers' report on Graff street, provided the property holders paid the expenses of the view. They also decided adverse to the remonstrance against the opening of Middle alley.

Adjourned.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

Quarterly Report of the Meat Inspector.

A session of the Board of Health was held yesterday afternoon in Municipal Hall. Meat Inspector Lindsay submitted the following report for the quarter ending September 30, 1874.

Condemned—Beef, 1,050 pounds; veal, 240 pounds; mutton, 400 pounds; seven head of cattle, twenty-three head of sheep., and three barrels fresh fish.

The amount of stock shipped from the East Liberty yards during the quarter is as follows:

	Cattle.	Hogs.	Sheep.
July,	33,801	60,590	59,830
Aug.,	35,006	61,310	58,936
Setp.,	38,636	66,333	61,301
Total,	107,437	188,233	180,067

Dead stock; cattle 55, hogs 470 and sheep 320. The report concluded by stating that during the quarter there was a decided improvement in the management of the butchers in the selection of meats offered for sale by them, and that the number of confiscations was remarkably small. The report was received and filed.

Health Officer Gray presented new regulations in regard to the cleaning of cesspools, requiring operators to use iron, air-tight vessels, which were approved by the Board.

CHIEF CLARK'S CASE.

The Police Committee in Secret Session—They Consider the Charges—A Compromise All Around.

Last evening a meeting of the Police Committee of Allegheny Councils was held in Mayor Fleming's private office, for the purpose of investigating the charges against Chief Clark, who was suspended several weeks ago. Shortly after eight o'clock the committee was called to order, and every person except the Mayor, members of the committee and clerk to the committee, requested to retire, including the reporters. They retired. After a session of little over an hour the committee adjourned, when the proceedings, as follows, were elicited from the members.

After the door had been closed, Mayor Fleming stated that his reason for suspending Chief Clark, was that the Chief had not attended to his duties as he should have done. He had not used strenuous efforts to capture the burglars who robbed Fleeger's gun shop, but allowed the place to be entered a second time.

Chief Clark was then called in and admitted that he had been somewhat negligent in his duties.

The Committee then sustained the Mayor in his action in suspending the Chief, so all was lovely for a brief season.

The Mayor then suggested the name of Samuel Long to fill the position, but the Committee declined to confirm his appointment. Finally at the request of several members of the Committee, His Honor reinstated Mr. Clark, in his former position on condition that he would attend faithfully to the performance of his duties.

The committee confirmed the Mayor's action, and then adjourned.

REV. CHARLES COOKE, D. D., one of the former members of the Pittsburgh Conference, M. E. Church, but now residing in Philadelphia, is slowly fading away. He is now about eighty years of age, and though his body is partially paralyzed, his mind is clear and vigorous.

A VERY GOOD MAN, a very pious man, a very wise man, a very prudent man, a very correct business man, a very efficient man, a very pleasant man, a very faithful man, a very zealous man, a very humble man and a sincere Christian, is the good Sunday School Superintendent.—Our Church Paper.

THE revival in the North Avenue M. E. church, Allegheny, is still in progress. The conversions thus far number upwards of one hundred and thirty. The pastor, Rev. E. B. Snyder will preach to-morrow morning on "The Stayed Mind's Peace," and in the evening on "The Grave's Argument."

LAST Monday evening the United Presbyterian Church of the South Side held their regular annual congregational meeting; the Treasurer's report was read, and a synopsis of the last year's work in the church was given. Perfect harmony, and a satisfactory condition of affairs in general, are reported.

QUARTERLY meeting services will be held in the Oakland M. E. Church to-morrow. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Stevens, will be assisted by the Presiding Elder, Rev. Dr. Endsley. THE venerable Rev. His health has been rather infirm for some time, but better since his return from a trip among friends.

REV. J. G. BROWN, D. D., and Rev. A. G. Wallace, delegates from the General Assembly of the U. P. church to the Synod of the A. R. church, South, which lately met in Tennessee, were cordially received and greatly encouraged in the prospects of reunion with their southern friends—the cause (Slavery) of the separation of the two bodies being now happily removed.

REV. J. S. HAWK, formerly of Westminster Presbyterian church, (East End), has been on a visit to his old home for the past five or six weeks, seeking to recover his health, which has been impaired for some time. Mr. Hawk was cordially received by his old parishioners, and desires to acknowledge a donation of his church in San Rafael, Cal., and personal favors to himself and family.

THE final triumph of the Church of God is assured. No weapon that is formed against it shall prosper. If the disciples of the Saviour are faithful to their master, He will never forsake them; and with His all-powerful presence to inspire and aid, it matters not how many or how strong or how determined may be his foes. The victory for truth and righteousness is sure.—Presbyterian Banner.

THE Ninth United Presbyterian Church has been refitted in a very tasteful manner. This congregation is now enjoying prosperity. The unwearying efforts of the Rev. Wm. M. Coleman have been crowned with success. Our South Side contemporary lately gave Mr. Coleman an exceedingly complimentary notice, referring to him as one of the most able ministers in the denomination.

THE Episcopal Convocation of Pittsburgh, recently held one of its regular meetings in Trinity Church. The sermon was preached by Rev. Boyd Vincent, of Calvary Church, East Liberty, upon the text "God is love." The usual reports from Mission Stations and Parishes were presented, showing on the whole steady work, and in most places a fair measure of progress. One very noticeble feature of the Convocation was the number of new members. No less than six were present for the first time.

AT THE annual meeting of the stockholders of the Castle Shannon Camp Meeting Association held in this city on the 12th inst., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, T. F. Scott; Vice President, W. J. Troth; Treasurer, Rev. J. L. Simpson; Secretary, T. H. Collhowner. The annual report of the Treasurer and Secretary showed the Association to be in a flourishing condition. The Secretary reported that fifty-eight out of the sixty shares composing the Association, had already been taken, and from present indications, it was thought that the large circle would be nearly filled next summer with cottage tents.

IN ACCORDANCE with the custom for several years, the London Sunday School Union has appointed Sabbath and Monday, October 25th and 26th, as days of special prayer on behalf of Sabbath schools and has issued a circular calling on brethren throughout the world to unite in this observance. At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Allegheny County Sabbath School Association, it was resolved to request all congregations and Sabbath schools throughout the country to observe these days as recommended, that pastors, so far as possible, be requested to preach special sermons upon this work and also that on the afternoon and evening of Sabbath, 25th inst., special union prayer meetings be held by the schools in each locality.

SABBATH week (25 inst.) will be a great day for the members and friends of the Wylie avenue United Presbyterian church. After two years of self-sacrifice and toil, they will dedicate their new church building to the worship of Almighty God. The programme for the occasion is one of unusual interest. The morning service commencing at 10½ o'clock, will be conducted as follows: The Pastor, the Rev. W. H. Knox, will read a brief historical sketch of the work from its inception. A short dedicatory sermon will be preached by the Rev. S. R. Frazier. Many of the city pastors of this denomination and others will be present and make short congratulatory addresses. The laity will be represented by General J. K. Moorhead of the Third Presbyterian church, and Major Wm. Frew of the Second United Presbyterian church, who will make brief addresses. The Rev. S. F. Scovel will preach an appropriate sermon in the afternoon at 3½ o'clock, and the Rev. J. R. W. Sloan, D. D., President of the Reformed Presbyterian Seminary, in the evening at 7½ o'clock.

THE Congregationalist thinks that "ten minutes less than half an hour is not seldom a better length for a sermon than ten minutes more than half an hour."

Doesn't the Congregationalist allow a little too much time to a sermon? Twenty minutes! Twenty minutes in this enlightened age! Twenty minutes and the delicious new novel not more than half read through! Twenty minutes, and the dinner getting cold. Twenty minutes, and all that delightful gossip waiting. Twenty minutes, and so much to do in the way of making calls, or fixing up that matter of business with Snookem in the afternoon! Twenty minutes! How much of our liberty will the Congregationalist be wanting to take? Say fifteen minutes, for the present, in accommodation to our slow pastor and the prejudices of some of our old fogy members. After a while, we may get it down to ten, then to five, finally dispense with the sermon altogether.—Methodist Recorder.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

Business Disposed of by the Committee Last Night.

A meeting of the Police Committee was held last night in the Common Council chamber. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The appointment by the Mayor of Peter Carney to a position on the sub-list of the Police department was confirmed. A report from the Mayor of dismissals from the force and appointments to fill the vacancies so created, was received and approved.

A number of bills and claims were presented, some of which were ordered to be paid and others were referred for examination. The bills favorably acted upon, amounted to $402.48. The claim of officer Anthony Kennedy for pay during the time he was off duty from injuries received while in service, was referred to the Committee on Claims and Complaints.

By the request of the Market Committee Chairman Duff called attention to the fact that the city is losing revenue at the Birmingham market, on the South Side, owing to countrymen forestalling the market by selling produce from their wagons. No action was taken in the matter.

On motion of Mr. Duff the lamp washers were directed to report each day to the Captain of the station house in their district the number of lamps washed by them the previous day, and the street upon which they are located, also that the Lieutenant of the district be instructed to examine the lamps and see if they have been cleaned. It was also decided to require each patrolman holding a fire alarm key to place one dollar in the hands of the Mayor's clerk as a guarantee that the key will be returned when the officer leaves the force, at which time his money will be returned.

The application of Detective Seth Wilmot to be placed on the pay roll for forty-four days lost by sickness was referred to the Committee on Claims and Complaints in connection with the City Solicitor.

Approved. On motion of Mr. Knowland the Mayor was requested to direct the police who are not wearing numbers to get not only them but their hats and blouses, and wear the numbers and shields, and to discharge all not complying with the order. The Clothing Committee was also instructed to see that the order was carried out.

Mr. Brown reported the Twenty-first street station house, on the South Side, to be in a very bad condition, but that all the others are well kept, except the Twelfth ward station house, which is dirty and filthy because of the neglect of the man in charge of it. On motion of Mr. Watson, it was decided to inform him that unless he attended to his business he would be discharged.

The City Property Committee was requested to have iron bars placed on the windows of the Fourteenth, Eleventh and Twelfth ward station houses.

A sub-committee was appointed to interview the Mayor, relative to placing a policeman at the Saw Mill Run ferry, on the South Side, and the committee adjourned.

Davis, of 167, 169 and 171 Penn avenue, who devotes his exclusive attention to the manufacture of fine and elegant vehicles, and sells the same at a price so remarkably low that where there is a will, there is a way for almost every person to become the possessor of one of his elegant pleasure or business vehicles. The enjoyment of carriage riding is cheaply bought in a purchase at this establishment, as good buggies are sold for $110.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

Mr. McCullough was well received last night as Richard III, but in no character have we seen him yet in which he appeared to as much advantage, and seemed to be so thoroughly at home as in "Richelieu." His Richard, however, was a splendid exhibition of dramatic strength and power, and is hardly susceptible of detraction. It differs considerably from Booth's rendition, but is equally as pleasing in every respect, and the audience was not slow to manifest its appreciation of that fact. Mr. Edwin Price's Duke of Buckingham was full of spirit and energy, and his meritorious interpretation of the part won him the recognition of his auditors. Mrs. Effie Ellsler as Queen Elizabeth had a difficult part to act, but she was entirely equal to the occasion, and gave Mr. McCullough efficient support.

"Virginius" is on the programme for the matinee this afternoon. It is one of Mr. McCullough's best plays. To-night "Macbeth" will be presented.

Mrs. D. P. Bowers.

On Monday night Mrs. D. P. Bowers, a tragedienne of eminent ability, and one who is a great favorite here, will appear at the Opera House. She will be supported by Mr. J. C. McCollom, an actor of fine reputation.

Fifth Avenue Theatre.

A programme, very choice and select, will be presented at the matinee this afternoon by Sanford's Old Time Minstrels. Their entertainments are of the highest order, and none need abstain from attending from fear of having their tastes offended, as everything that smacks in the least of vulgarity has been carefully eliminated from the performances. While highly humorous and uproariously funny they are yet chaste and pure and fit for an eye or ear the most fastidious. Ancient minstrelsy is faithfully represented, and in the close adherence to a style never seen by some and forgotten by others, lies the popularity and strength of this excellent troupe. The concluding performance will be given this evening.

The Thomas Orchestra.

The opening concert of the Theodore Thomas Troupe was given at Library Hall last night, and attracted an audience that was a good one numerically, and an appreciative one musically, although there was no special display in either direction. The programme embraced nothing but music of a classical character, but the selections were arranged so as to give the fullest play to the orchestra. They were generally characterized by lightness and airy grace, and the programme was one of the best selected and most enjoyable that was ever given here by the troupe. The selections in order, were as follows:

1. Overture. The Ruler of the Spirits.....Weber.
2. Marcia Funebre / Finale. } Symphony Eroica...Beethoven
3. Aria, "Parto, ma tu ben mio," Clemenza di Tito.....Mozart. Clarionette Obligato by Mr. H. Kayser. Miss Emma Cranch.
4. Fantasie Caprice, Op 11.....Vieuxtemps.
5. Ballet Music, Prophet.....Meyerbeer. a. Waltz. b. Redowa. c. Quadrille of the Skaters. d. Galop.
6. Cavatina, "Di tanti palpiti," Tancredi.....Rossini. Miss Emma Cranch.
7. Meditation, (new).....Gounod. The Solo part played by 16 violins.
8. Introduction; Chorus, March, } 3d Act Lohengrin.....Wagner.

Where all was so perfectly executed it is almost impossible to enumerate any special excellence, but if there was any superiority, it was perhaps in the second, fourth and seventh selections. In the first the deep, sombre melody predominated with interweavings of the lighter character to give it effect and relief from heaviness; the second—"The Fantasie Caprice"—was full of brilliancy, quick and airy, replete with fire and enthusiasm; the last, The Meditation, was a poetic little sketch, containing a rich, melody,—like the faint exquisite music of a dream. If there was a gem to the programme this should perhaps be accorded the praise. Of the orchestra in general, it is unnecessary to speak, for where perfection is reached and is so manifest, praise would be superogatory.

Miss Cranch, who is the vocal attraction this season, is a young lady of pleasing stage manners and a good voice, though not a super-excellent one. She seems to sing with ease, and her vocalization is characterized by much sweetness and purity, but her voice is not of great compass. She seemed, however, to give full satisfaction to the audience, and was twice recalled by enthusiastic encores.

The troupe to-day will give two performances—a matinee and an evening entertainment.

The feature of this evening's programme is "Symphony No. 5; Lenore by Raff," which is thus divided:

Part I. Liebesglueck. (Happiness in Love.) Allegro. Andante quasi Larghetto.
Part II. Trennung. (Separation.) Marsch-Tempo.
Part III. Wiedervereinigung im Tode. (Reunion in Death.) Introduction and Ballade, (nach G. Buerger's Lenore.) Allegro.

The story thus celebrated in music, is from Burger's celebrated ballad. The heroine, Lenore, as introduced as being troubled on account of her lover, William, who had gone to the war, and from whom she had received no tidings. On the conclusion of peace, the hosts return; Lenore inquires in vain for her lover, and deeming him lost or faithless, gives up to despair, and blasphemes God. At night the tramp of a horse is heard at her gate, then a gentle ring of the bell; it is her William, who bids her arise and dress in haste, as he must bear her away with him to their nuptial chamber, a hundred leagues distant, that very night. Lenore mounts his charger behind him, and they fly rapidly away in the moonlight. They meet a train of mourners bearing a corpse to burial and chanting a dirge,—William bids them follow him.

The dirge is hushed, the bier vanishes, and the mourners follow after the riders.

At last, as day is breaking, they reach an iron gate, at which they rush headlong; it opens, and they find themselves in a graveyard filled with tombstones glistering in the moonlight. All at once, William's clothing falls from him like tinder, his head becomes a bare skull, and his body a skeleton: the charger, emitting fire from his nostrils, sinks under Lenore, and disappears.

This is a new selection, and considerable interest is felt in musical circles in regard to it. Our music lovers, who wish to gather to their hearts melody that will linger for years, should not fail to improve this opportunity.

Janauschek.

The great tragedienne is destined to meet with a reception at the hands of our lovers of the drama worthy of her exalted talents, judging from the rapidity with which the sale of seats is progressing at the Messrs. Klebers' music store. The opening play on Monday evening will be "Mary Stuart," the title role in which Janauschek is acknowledged to be without a successful rival. The great event of the engagement, however, will be Janauschek's appearance as Valerie, Countess de Vardes, in the great society play entitled "Temptation," on Tuesday evening. In this character she wears no less than six different costumes, and all her jewelry, amounting to over one hundred thousand dollars' worth! "Temptation" is an accurate translation of Octavia Feuillet's "La Tentation," but which is better known in this country under the name of "Led Astray," which is having such a successful run in various cities East and West. Janauschek is supported by her New York star company, among whom are George D. Chaplin, A. D. Bradley, John Morton, J. O. Sefton, James Taylor, J. B. Ashton, Shirley Smith, Miss Minnie Monk, Miss Kate Fletcher, Mrs. J. Ashton, Mrs. Alice Preston, and other first class artists, including the wonderful child, Little Dorrit.

Elocutionary Entertainment.

Prof. Robert Kidd, the well-known and thorough elocutionist, whose abilities in this direction have been ranked by some as superior to those of any in his sphere, will give an entertainment in the Butler Street M. E. Church on this (Saturday) evening, at the corner of Butler and Fortieth streets. This entertainment will be largely an "Evening with the Poets," and will combine the useful with the pleasant. Prof. Kidd is a complete master of his art.

"That Boy."

If you want to hear all about "That Boy," with the rollicking disposition and the royal heart, that embryo man, that genius of the juvenile species, capable of the noblest development—if you have any interest in such an individual, go next Tuesday evening and hear Dr. J. H. Vincent tell what "That Boy" is and how he should be managed, and what can be made of him. The Dr. is one of the best live men of the age, is a very pleasant attractive speaker, and has condensed enough wit and wisdom in this one lecture to suffice for a dozen of ordinary lectures,—all of which we know from having once heard him tell all about "That Boy." The lecture will be given in Christ M. E. church, next Tuesday evening, and "That Boy's" friends are invited.

MUNICIPAL ROADS.

The Trouble About Second Avenue—Interested Parties Heard—The Barton Bills.

The Road Committee met yesterday afternoon in the City Clerk's office, Mr. Herron in the chair. The President stated the object of the meeting to be a consideration of the Road appropriations.

The following communication was received from the City Controller and laid over until he could be heard on the matter of appropriations.

To the Road Committee:

GENTLEMEN—Inclosed find bills from W. B. Barton, Esq., certified from city pay rolls by your committee, for payment at this office, which I decline to issue a warrant for, on account of the excessive charges contained therein for employees, and also for non-conformity with section 7, page 240, city code.

Very respectfully,
R. M. SNODGRASS.

The following offered by Mr. Scully, was adopted:

Resolved, That the City Solicitor be requested to report to this Committee whether the width of Sylvan avenue extension, between Greenfield avenue and the line of J. Blythe's property, can be legally reduced from fifty feet, as required by the ordinance, to forty feet.

A remonstrance against the vacation of Coal Lane, between Somers and Francis streets, Thirteenth ward, was read and referred to a committee of five in conjunction with the City Attorney and Engineer.

The memorial in relation to the toll gate within the city limits, on Frankstown avenue, was read, and on motion of Mr. Scully it was sent back to Councils with a recommendation that that body appoint a special committee with a view to the purchase of the plank road. A petition was read from M. Krebs, relative to damages sustained by him by the grading of Shady Lane. A resolution was ordered to be presented to Councils authorizing the board of Viewers to assess damages and benefits. The petition for the opening and grading of Chauncy street, from Wylie to Webster avenue, was read and received and action deferred because the paper was not in legal form. A communication was read from Mr. Chas Meyran, dedicating Meyran and Louisa streets, Fourteenth ward, for public use. An ordinance was ordered to be prepared for the opening of said streets.

Mr. Duff called up the ordinance changing the width of Second avenue so as to accommodate the tracks of the Connellsville railroad. The ordinance provides that the south sidewalk of Second avenue, at the angle about 950 feet west of Bates street, shall be eight feet in width, and the curb line shall run parallel to the track of the P. & C. R. R., east and west of said point, until the sidewalk attains its full width, and permission is granted to the Railroad Company to use such portion of the avenue as may be necessary to enable them to sustain their second track, and that whenever the said Pittsburgh and C. R. R., abut on Second avenue between Birmingham bridge and Greenfield avenue, the sidewalk on the north side of said Second avenue is abandoned to the use of the Railroad Company.

On motion of Mr. Aull, it was decided to hear all interested parties. President Cohen, of the Connellsville road, stated that the road formerly had two tracks along the line of Second avenue, having acquired the right to occupy the roadway by permission of the plank road company, the then owners. Since the city has come into possession the Company has been ousted, and at some points the tracks has been endangered, and at others one track destroyed. The Company simply asked that at the points named in the ordinance, the width of the avenue shall be reduced slightly. If that were granted the Company, by moving a little back into the hill both tracks can be maintained. The hill, he said, was so unsafe that the Company could not move back the full width necessary because of the apprehension that the earth would slide down.

The Engineer of the Second avenue Commission stated that a petition signed by a large number of property holders on Second avenue, is being circulated, protesting against giving any portion of Second avenue to the railroad company.

The Committee deferred action in the matter until it can be more fully investigated.

The question of the payment of the bills of W. B. Barton coming up, Mr. Barton said they were not too high for the work done, which was superintended by the Road Commissioners and extends over a mile. Controller Snodgrass said the work should have been let out by contract, and he objected to the bills, particularly the charge of $6 per day, as the foreman's wages, and said he would issue no warrants unless compelled by Councils. After considerable discussion on motion of Mr. Cunningham it was decided to fork over the money after making a deduction of two dollars a day on the foreman's wages.

Bids were opened for the grading, paving and curbing of Craft avenue, from Fifth avenue to Niagara street, but as they were very close, the engineer was instructed to compute the total amount of each bid and report to the committee at the next meeting, to be held on Thursday next.

Mr. Scully stated that Mr. Cohen, of the Connellsville Railroad, offered a compromise so as to make the width of the roadway on Second avenue thirty-one feet opposite the gas works instead of twenty-four feet, as originally proposed. Action was deferred until the next meeting, when all property holders interested can appear.

Adjourned.

MEETING AT McKEESPORT.

A Republican Gathering—Speech of Col. Bayne—An Old Fashioned Rally.

On Thursday evening the wide-awake Republicans of McKeesport held a mass meeting in the public square. The Great Western band having arrived from Pittsburgh, a large audience was speedily gathered and the meeting organized, on motion of Mr. Harrison, by electing Mr. Campbell President, with the following Vice Presidents: J. H. Berry, Capt. Benj. Coursin, Asher Vankirk, Jos. Douglas, Wm. Coyan, Hon. Alex. Miller, Lewis Matthews, Capt. McCully, Jos. A. Stone, Capt. G. W. Gray, John Wadsworth, J. W. Patterson, J. J. B. Copeland, Cyrus Christy, N. Kirkwood, B. W. Rankin, W. Seybold, S. E. Carothers.

Col. Bayne was introduced and spoke for over an hour and a half. He referred to the great issues at stake in the present campaign, and dwelt largely upon the outrages in the Southern States. The condition of affairs, as reported by every telegraphic dispatch, was enough to make every thinking man earnestly consider how to vote. Life and property were in danger, and if the Democratic party met with success it was only a question of time, how soon a Republican life would pay the penalty of his principles. This was a question that came home to every man. He argued the Republican party should be continued in power until every man's life, whether black or white, Democrat or Republican, was perfectly secure, if it took fifty years to accomplish the task. Referring to the important question of tariff for our industries he mentioned the fact of the recent Democratic successes in the Western elections, having made it extremely doubtful whether the friends of tariff would be able to secure a majority. To put the best face upon the matter, the question simply resolved itself to this: The present condition of the tariff interest was precarious, and nothing but earnest, effective work and increased Republican majorities could stay the tide, which at present seemed to be setting against the interests of our city and State. The Free Trade League with headquarters at New York City, were exerting every energy to secure the election of Congressmen, pledged to vote to abolish our present tariff system. Should they succeed, the future of Pittsburgh and of Pennsylvania would indeed be dark. For the sake of the working men of the State and the families dependent upon their labor, he hoped to see the Republicans of McKeesport roll up an increased majority for the Republican ticket. Its success would be their success; its defeat, their defeat.

The night air was damp and chilly, yet throughout the entire address the large audience never wearied and frequently manifested their approval. Colonel Bayne was very effective in his remarks. It was considered one of the best meeting ever held in McKeesport. Put the live Republicans of this city down for a handsome majority.

A TERRIBLE FALL.

Two Men Tumble From the Fort Wayne Railroad Bridge—One of them not Expected to Live.

About nine o'clock last night officers Snyder, Brown and one or two other policemen who patrol Penn and Liberty streets in the vicinity of the Union Depot and the freight depot of the Fort Wayne railroad, were notified by the watchman at the latter place that he had discovered a man lying very badly hurt on the river bank immediately under the railroad bridge. They went to that place, and the person who was supposed to be hurt so seriously got up and walked away. About seventy-five feet further up the bank, however, was found a man who was injured and no mistake. There was no blood on his person to indicate that he had met with foul play, and it is thought that both the men fell off the bridge. The one who was able to walk off tumbled from the lower side of the structure, but the other, it is conjectured, made a misstep and fell from between the cross-ties of the track. The latter was insensible when found, and at this writing had not regained consciousness, which is the reason for inability to give his name. He was placed on a stretcher and removed to the Central Station house. Dr. McCoy was summoned, and after making an examination said the man was in a very critical condition. Several of his ribs were broken by the fall and pushed into the lungs, and the Doctor also stated that the base of his skull was fractured. His internal injuries are so serious that no expectations of his recovery are entertained. None of the officers who looked at the man were able to identify him. He appears to be about forty years of age, looks like a mill hand, wears a suit of dark clothes, black coat, brown striped check shirt and has black hair and chin whiskers.

—At half past two o'clock this morning, the individual referred to above, died of his injuries.

The Property Holder's Duty.

It is the duty of every man who owns property, whether it is in his house or in his store, to have that property insured, and no prudent man will do otherwise. But while it is a duty to insure, it is equally a duty to exercise care as to where the insurance shall be placed, and a good agency, and a good company or companies should be selected—such companies and agents as have stood the test. These attractions are offered at the agency of Messrs. R. E. Heron & Co., above the Union National Bank, corner Market and Fourth streets. The insurer here has a choice of foreign and home companies, the rates are as low as any prudent insurer would ask, and the agency is one, where business is conducted on straight forward honorable principles. No reasonable man will ever have occasion to be in the least dissatisfied with the way in which he is treated there, for the insurer gets a good policy and has gentlemen in every sense of the word to deal with. If you have anything to insure, call at R. E. Heron & Co's. and learn the advantages they can offer.

ORDINANCES.

NOTICE.—The following Ordinances relative to Street Improvements are published for information, in accordance with the provision of section 6 of an Act of Assembly, entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled an act concerning Streets and Sewers in the city of Pittsburgh, approved March 20th, 1873:

SECTION 6. That no Ordinance or any improvement and no report of viewers shall be finally acted upon by both branches of Councils until at least one week after its representation and publication in official papers authorized to do the city printing.

And will be presented to Councils for final action at next meeting.

AN ORDINANCE—Establishing the width of side-walks on Second avenue.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh in Select and Common Councils assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, that the side-walk on the south side of Second avenue, from River street to Laughlin street, be and the same is hereby established at a variable width of twelve (12) feet at River street to a width of fifteen (15) feet at Laughlin street; thence at the width of fifteen (15) feet to William street; thence at a variable width from William street so as to be twelve (12) feet wide at Linden street.

SECTION 2. That the side-walk on the north side of said Second avenue, between the points named, be and the same is hereby reduced from the width of twelve (12) feet in proportion that the south side-walk is hereby increased so that the roadway shall not be decreased.

SECTION 3. That any ordinance or part of ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed so far as the same affects this ordinance.

E. S. MORROW, Clerk.

Purviance, Bayne and Cochran.

These gentlemen differ from each other in their political views, but when it comes to the dots, they all agree in saying that Mr. R. Taggart, of 129 Federal street, sells the best and cheapest boots and shoes in the two cities. Our own opinion should be entitled to some weight in matters of this kind, and we say, without fear of contradiction, that Taggart sells cheap, very cheap, exceedingly cheap, because we have bought his goods and therefore know whereof we speak. Lookout for breakers next Winter, and buy the very lowest you can, and in the line of boots and shoes, Taggart's is the place. This is nothing but the truth.

What a Beautiful Overcoat.

The coat which was the subject of this remark, was the production of Mr. B Tiegel, No. 53 Smithfield, who has a most superb assortment of overcoating for the fall trade. Not only this, but his stock of cloths, cassimeres and vestings are full, fine and fashionable. Complete suits made to order at extremely low prices. A good fit guaranteed in all cases.

The Latest Novelties in Toy Books.

Messrs. Gildenfeny & Hess, No. 69, Fifth Avenue, have a complete stock of toy books, pocket-books, albums and miscellaneous books. Great variety in style, quality and size. All the popular novels of the day. The latest Periodicals received immediately after publication. All goods greatly reduced in prices. Prices to suit all.
